Eliminate photodegradation and gain full-spectrum sensitivity with the Agilent Cary Eclipse

For more than 15 years, this laboratory workhorse has proven itself light years ahead in sensitivity, reliability, and sampling capabilities. Its unique Xenon flashlamp eliminates photobleaching and ensures true, meaningful data. Other advantages include:

- A 10 year lamp life guarantee
- Sampling flexibility: Measure every sample, anywhere
- Proven sensitivity across the full spectrum
- Powerful capabilities: Xenon flashlamp and fiber optics deliver intensity and robustness
- Roomlight immunity: Measure fluorescence with the sample compartment open or closed—or with a fiber optic probe
