

Want to Simplify Procurement?

Agilent Flexible Spend Plan

Allocate the funds you need to support your lab

Few tasks are more tedious than writing endless POs. Now you don't have to, because the Agilent Flexible Spend Plan makes it easy to apply funds to a flexible spending account. You can use the funds for what you need—columns, supplies, standards, services, and more—when you need it.

Make your life less stressful—and your lab more productive

The Flexible Spend Plan simplifies your purchasing, planning, and budgeting by:

- Allowing you to bank funds up to three years and use them for Agilent columns, supplies, and services covering all major instrument brands.
- Eliminating the need to issue POs for every purchase.
- Allowing you to add funds or new users at any time.
- Making it easy to track your balance and account activity through an online portal.
- Offering monthly, quarterly, or semi-annual billing options.*

Maximize the return on your instrument investment

Regular instrument maintenance—along with using the appropriate columns and supplies for your application—helps you reduce costly downtime. The Flexible Spend Plan enables you to spend money to support your complete workflow. So you can maintain optimal instrument performance without jeopardizing your budget.
