

Announcing our new Technology Center in North Houston

Quantum Analytics is a value added distributor for Agilent Technologies, offering an array of customized instrument financing solutions, technical services, cross-platform system integration, installation, training and product support.

Our new state-of-the-art multi-vendor demonstration, training & support center is located North of Houston in The Woodlands / Oak Ridge North with easy access to Interstate 45.

We feature several new Agilent Chromatography and Mass Spectrometry systems at our demolab, staffed with product experts.

Join us at our new Southern Technology Center for our Open House on Tuesday, June 30th. Visit www.LQA.com/rsvp for more information.
