Simplify and streamline purchasing with Agilent eProcurement B2B

Automated ordering processes enhance productivity, improve spending transparency, and lower procurement costs

Agilent eProcurement B2B automates and optimizes business-to-business ordering processes. This capability takes your eCommerce experience to the next level by letting you:

- Purchase a wide range of instruments, software, consumables, and services.
- Place orders quickly and make sure that critical supplies are always in stock.
- Gain clear insight into how much money is being spent—and where.
- Spend less on each PO with digital transactions and automation.
- Ensure end-to-end data privacy and integrity through standard data security protocols.

What's more, when you partner with Agilent you're in control. Our experienced team will listen to your needs and provide nimble, flexible support aligned to your specific business needs and challenges.

Three reasons why B2B eProcurement makes great business sense

- 1 Supercharge productivity
with faster order creation, product deliveries, and invoice processing.
- 2 Improve budget planning and allocation with better spending visibility.
- 3 Lower procurement costs and reduce errors with process automation.
