Description

The Alien Reference RNA QRT-PCR Detection Kit is a high-quality external reference RNA control for QRT-PCR experiments using probe-based detection. The Alien RNA transcript is an in vitro-transcribed RNA molecule that is nonhomologous to any known nucleic acids.

Test Conditions

Following the protocol outlined in the instruction manual, the Alien RNA transcript is functionally tested in QRT-PCR assays, using the supplied Alien primers and VIC-labeled probe. Standard curves are performed to verify the quantity and quality of the Alien RNA transcript, and no-RT controls are performed to verify the absence of contaminating DNA.
