Description

The SureSelect Target Enrichment System is a hybridization-based system developed to isolate genomic or transcriptomic sequences of interest for downstream analysis by next-generation sequencing (NGS). This component is the RNA probe capture library designed to work with the appropriate SureSelect Reagent Kit to enable selective capture of the regions of interest.

Test Conditions

The RNA probe library integrity is verified using an Agilent TapeStation system or Agilent 2100 Bioanalyzer system. The RNA probe library is functionally tested in a SureSelect DNA capture experiment with performance verified by QPCR.
